HEY! FEVER DAY HERE

Society of Sneezers Sounds
Slogan for Season.

PICNIC PREPARATIONS PUSHED

German Guild's Gay Greetings Give Gauge of Gathering's Great Growth.
Many Martyr Members to Make Most of Marvelous Medicines—Washington's Watchword "Wilkomen."

Now for the merry hay-fever season! The United States Hay Fever Association is in receipt of a letter from the German Hay Fever Association which is chock-full of intimate notes from similar organizations in Germany. It tells how to seek places that have no hay fever of their own, and so introduce it where it is now lacking. Excursions and picnics are being arranged.

Altogether, the United States Hay Fever Association is looking forward to a most pleasant convention this summer. It will be held somewhere in New Hampshire, that State being most friendly to the enterprise.

See Short Season.

Unlike the all-year open seasons enjoyed by kindred organizations, such as the American Academy of Associated Asthmatics, the Corn and Bunion Bund, and the International Catarrh Club, the United States Hay Fever Association has only a short period in each year in which it may enjoy its social fling. Therefore, the association's members make the most of the brief season that is theirs to get together and compare their symptoms. The Washington chapter, which numbers among its members some real swell people, anticipates a lovely time.

According to the association's pamphlet, which has just been sent out, the only requirement for membership is to take up the disease and acquire it. Even novitiates, or persons who have been able to progress only as far as the early stage, known as "new-mown hay fever," may participate in all the advantages open to old members.

Any one who is the owner of hay fever may become a member by paying $1 admission fee. This entitles him to membership for four years, provided he keeps his fever so long. But should a member go in for tonsillitis, or neuralgia, or pips, or any thing other than hay fever, he is instantly expelled ipso facto.

Lots of Light Literature.

The delights of membership in the Hay Fever Association are many. An advantage that is especially impressed upon one after a glance at the hay fever literature is the great wealth of reading matter concerning the fever that the association sends its members.

Pamphlets entitled "How to Know the Wild Hay Fevers" or "Little Journeys to the Homes of Hay Fevers" may be had for the asking. These books can be taken along when a member goes on a vacation, so that he may maintain his haying average.

The pamphlet that came out recently tells a great deal about recent investigations in hay fever diet. Once, it seems, folks who got hold of a good case always avoided eating hay.

Now, in the list of things that should not be eaten, neither the American nor German authorities mention hay as being injurious. President Schulz, of the German association, calls attention to a "new serum which is obtained from the blood of horses."

The horse lives largely upon hay, and uses straw only to build its nest. Native draft horses of Italy, it has been found, browse often upon spaghett. It is certain that serum from horses whose staple food is horse chestnuts or the harder horseradish or the uplands would be looked upon askance by the true disciple of the hay fever cult.

FATES SUICIDE TO WIN GIRL.

Negro Tastes Acid, Shoots Gun, and Is Carried to Hospital.

In a desperate attempt to create love and sympathy in the heart of the girl who had coldly repulsed his suit, Thomas Price, a negro, yesterday ran wildly down Fourth and College streets northwest flourishing a bottle of carbolic acid in one hand and a heavy revolver in the other.

In front of the Freedmen's Hospital he dramatically paused. He tasted a few drops of the acid and fired the revolver into the air, dropping at the feet of a score of negroes who had followed him. He was carried into the hospital, where a few first-aid remedies put him on his feet again.

The acid and the revolver were confiscated by the police of the Eighth precinct and Price was allowed to depart.

Conventions Committee to Meet.

WORKMEN FALL THIRTY FEET.

Scaffold Breaks and Carpenters Are Hurled to Ground.

While working on the Columbia Club house at Chevy Chase Lake yesterday morning, three carpenters fell thirty feet from a scaffold, and were seriously injured. They were taken to the Emergency Hospital.

The injured men are John M. Kemether, thirty years old, of 337 N street northwest, contusions of back; George Dickinson, thirty-five years old, of 1413 Duncan street, several ribs fractured; James McAdler, fifty-two years old, of 240 I street northwest, cut about face and badly bruised.

The men were working on the rear porch of the clubhouse. Their weight was too much for the scaffold, which gave way with them.

COMMISSION SAVES $200,000

Station Grade Damage Report Shows Big Reduction.

Original Estimates Are Cut Down in Many Cases by Special Jury Appraisements.

The District has saved $200,000 of the amount appropriated for damages incident to the construction of Union Station.

Special Counsel A. Leftwich Sinclair's report shows the original estimate for damages in the sections covered was more than $200,000, the actual awards being $43,243.10. There were 133 claims for damages heard by the grade damage commission during the year. Damages aggregating $104,810 were awarded landowners in ninety-two cases.

In thirty-six of the cases dissatisfaction with the appraisements of the commission were expressed by the Commissioners, which caused the Supreme Court of the District to summon a jury to appraise and determine damages.

By compromising thirty-two cases in which jury trials had been ordered, $11,350.50 was saved to the District. Sixty-seven damage petitions were filed during the year, making a total of 89 filed altogether.

CHECK PASSER BROUGHT BACK.

Lucas is also wanted for alleged theft of an electric fan from William Barlow, 100 Seventh street northwest.

PRESBYTERIANS IN SESSION.

Hagerstown, Md., July 28.—At the gathering here to-day of Presbyterians from the District of Columbia and adjoining States, it was decided to hold the next reunion at Pen-Mar the fourth Thursday in July, 1911.

The gathering to-day numbered more than 800 persons. Special trains over the steam lines and extra cars over the electric roads were necessary to handle the crowds. Following the sacred concert by the Pen-Mar orchestra, the reunion exercises proper were held this afternoon. Rev. A. W. Paley, of New York, made the address of the day, speaking on foreign missions.

INFANT PARALYSIS STRIKES CAPITAL

Two Children at Hospital Seriously Affected.

Francis Keegin, the three-year-old son of Edward Keegin, bailiff of the Court of Claims, of 1308 S street northwest, is the latest victim of infantile paralysis. After being treated by Dr. Mason, of Fourteenth street, the child was taken to the Children's Hospital at 7 o'clock last evening. The right side, arm, and leg were affected. The little one was stricken Sunday.

Dr. A. Thurston, of the hospital, said last night that the child was resting easily.

Much fear exists in the District over this new malady, and the physicians are watching each case with much anxiety. Another victim brought into the hospital last night was Rosa Rosenbaum, a three-year-old girl, from her residence, 1014 Seventh street northwest. Her case is similar to that of the Keegin child, the same part of the body being affected. The cases are being studied at every turn of development.

Six deaths of infants yesterday increased the infant mortality list for the week to twenty-six, most of the deaths resulting from indigestion.

THIEF LEAVES EVIDENCE.

WASHINGTON PAYS LEAST FOR DEBIT

Census Gives Comparative Figures of Cities.

Rates of interest that cities are paying on their outstanding debts are steadily rising, according to the Census Bureau's annual report on the 158 largest cities in the United States. The report deals with statistics for 1908. The rate of interest for all of the 158 cities combined was 3.35 per cent for 1908, 3.33 per cent in 1907, and 3.32 per cent in 1906. For cities of 200,000 population and over the rate for 1908 was 3.58 per cent, for 1907 3.45 per cent, and for 1906 3.73.

The highest average of rates paid by any city with a population of more than 200,000 was that of San Francisco. The lowest rate paid by any city in the same class was that of Washington—3.2 per cent.

The report shows that in the year 1908 127 of the 158 cities sold to the public $187,083,296 in bonds, on which they received $5,325,651 in premiums and paid $184,656 in discounts. Only eleven cities are reported as having sold bonds at a discount, most of these being in Southern States. The average net rate borne by New York City's outstanding bonds is 2.6 per cent, although in 1908 that city sold to the public $60,000,000 of bonds on which it will pay until maturity a net rate of 4.19 per cent.
